

A LEADER'S DYNAMIC

Électricité de France (EDF) is a state-owned French listed corporation, the biggest European power utility and a leading energy player, active in all major electricity businesses and on 5 continents.

EDF covers the whole spectrum of the electricity value chain: power generation (nuclear, thermal, hydro, renewable), transmission, distribution, electricity optimization and trading, products and services sales, R&D and engineering. It is the global leader in nuclear generation and an industrial operator worldwide with the best low-carbon energy mix of any of the world's major electricity companies.
